To whom it may concern,

Sceptre Communications Inc. has provided Bulldog Oil & Gas Inc. ("Bulldog") with telecom services in both setting up our initial office in December 2008 and our office move in December 2009. In addition to performing excellent service in both the initial set up and coordinating the move of our telecommunication services, they recently offered to conduct a free telecom analysis. Sceptre Communications recommendations from this review resulted in a significant annual savings to Bulldog in excess of $2,000 which is approximately 20% of our annual telecom expense.

Bulldog would recommend the telecom services provided by Sceptre Communications to any business for the potential to reduce telecommunication costs and to ensure telecommunication services are utilized economically and efficiently.

Sincerely,
